

PERFORMANCE

Performance Coaching with the Brandt Principle is a unique, multi-faceted experience; everything from performance to content to energetics is covered and integrated. Draw from a deep connection to your self-expression, your values and your creativity to capture your audience's attention—and leave them uplifted and wanting more.

Energetic work is used throughout to balance nerves, master group dynamics and express more effectively.

Performance Coaching is available for:

Presentation Coaching—Public Speaking/Media appearances

Presentation Coaching covers all aspects of communicating with the public, whether it's an IPO, quarterly meeting, PowerPoint presentation, press conference or broadcast interview. Our goal is to make sure your message is framed as a complete and compelling story and, most importantly, connects to your authentic, values-driven inner voice. Everything from story arc to performance is covered, and on-site coaching is available.

Script Consultation

Script Consultation is provided as an integrated service for presenters. We ensure that your message is framed as a complete, consistent and compelling story and, most importantly, connects to your authentic, values-driven inner voice. Clients are provided with a thorough analysis of dramatic arc as well as rewrites tailored to the presenter, the material, the context and the audience.

Role Preparation & Auditions for TV, stage and film

Prepare for your next role with a classically trained, lifetime member of The Actors Studio and master coach to stars and producers of stage and screen. Coaching for actors includes consideration of style, genre, language, circumstances, dramatic arc and character development, and includes energetic work to overcome nerves, improve concentration and enhance openness to feedback (a must for winning over directors!).
